

Obvious Signs That Humanity Is Lost

In these trying times, it is important to reflect on how we have measured up to expectations and are then reminded of our own limitations.

I find it a bit hard to believe, but someone thought every single sign here was a necessary warning. What have we come to?